“If The Stones Cried Out”
(Luke 19:28-40)

Jesus often referred to Himself as the Son of _____, and when others tried to worship him, he told them to keep _____.

As Jesus is descending the Mount of Olives, he is announcing to the world that he is “_____!”

He knows it is his Father’s mission to _____ a fallen world.

Some of the crowd are surprised to see Jesus riding on a _____.

When Jesus said the stones would cry out, he wasn’t referring to the _____ Stones. He was referring to ordinary _____ on the ground.

What would the stones have cried out on that first Palm Sunday?

#1.- “Take notice, Jerusalem: your _____ is here.”

The people were waiting for a king. They called this king they were waiting for, “_____.”

Then Jesus told them a parable, in which the king returned to his workers, and he _____ those who increased his money and _____ those who did not.

The disciples were a little misguided in their _____.

Even though Jesus told his followers what to expect, they, like us, were a little _____ to Jesus’ real message.

#2.- “Your _____ has arrived!”

The good news for the day: Jesus didn’t come into our world to rule over us, but to _____ us!

(over)

Some think that when Christ returns, he will force us to do his will; the truth is that he will _____ us to be like he is!

We have been set free from the _____ of sin and death!

You and I are just as helpless when it comes to dealing with the forces of sin and death as Sir Douglas was without his _____.

The one thing in this world that we cannot do is _____ ourselves.

#3.- “Give him your _____.”

There must come a time when we _____ him to be the Lord of our lives, when we begin to _____ as the kind of men and women God created us to be!

With his help _____, we aim to no longer be under the reign of our _____ selves. We long to be _____ he created us to be!

C.S. Lewis: “The question is not what we _____ ourselves to be, but what he _____ us to be when he made us...”

You thought you were going to be made into a decent little _____, but he is building a _____.

He intends to come and _____ in it himself!

That is the purpose in giving him our hearts, that we might be a _____ - _____ in him!

Listen to the stones!!

Listen to the stones that lined the path that Jesus trod that first Palm Sunday!
