

December 1, 2019
“A Vision Of Beauty And Hope!”
(Isaiah 2:1-5)

Our text for today, from Isaiah 2, is a vision of a beautiful _____.

He sees a vision of people who are so motivated to be in God’s _____ that they look like an _____ flowing stream.

It takes the powerful work of the _____ in our hearts and minds to inspire us to turn from our _____, sinful ways and seek God’s ways.

Jesus is our _____ from God that God has a plan to undo the damage of our sin and _____ us to him.

What does Isaiah see?

1.- Jesus the Messiah is going to _____ our separation from God.

In Isaiah’s vision, he sees an undoing of the _____.

Our sin _____ us from God and every good thing God supplies.

Our sin separates us from _____ other. Our selfishness and _____ keep us from experiencing _____ with others.

Everything sad is going to come _____. What a great vision!

2.- Jesus the Messiah is going to heal our _____ from each other.

In the Garden, God created Adam and Eve to live in a relationship of _____ with God and each other.

(over)

When we reject God’s ways, we also reject the _____ that was meant to _____ and protect us.

Isaiah is clear that when humanity is restored to God, we will no longer desire _____. We will turn our weapons into instruments of _____.

Someday, all who write about war and profit from war and suffer from war will be _____.

Jesus will restore our _____ with God and peace with others. And all the selfish, sinful impulses that compel us to turn against one another will be _____ by God’s love.

What is the first thing God created in this world? _____

What is the last thing that will indicate the presence of God among us? _____

The Advent season is our chance to remember, to _____, to announce to the world that the messiah has come and that we have been _____ to walk in the light of the Lord!

As we walk in God’s _____, we will choose justice and peace because through Jesus we have been _____ to God and _____ to one another!

During this Advent season, what are some ways you can heal the separation between you and God, and between you and your brothers and sisters in this world?

Find some ways to share more of Jesus’ light and life to those who so badly need to know God’s peace and God’s hope!