“To Say or To Be?”
(Luke 9:28-36)

Perhaps all of us are a little circumspect about _____!

Sometimes, when in the _____ of the holy, we honor God best by saying _____!

It's not _____ that's getting most of us in trouble. It's shooting our _____ off and shouting our _____ out over things we know nothing about!

The disciples behaved with surprising _____ after witnessing the Transfiguration.

The disciples choose to say _____ and let the future unfold without commentary.

There are times when saying nothing is the _____ insight we can offer!

Sometimes we need to stay in place, to _____, to just sit down and _____ until the word and _____ from on high arrive!

The words, “I don't know” can be very good _____!

While words might fail us after a profound experience, it can easily withstand our inability to _____ it!
-We don't need to “talk an experience out” in order to make it real!

There are times when God is _____! – Either waiting for us to _____ or for us to _____ in wisdom!

We need to recognize that sometimes it takes more _____ and conviction to say nothing than spout off!

(over)

It is _____ on the summits.

Sometimes on mountaintops we need an interrupting _____ to speak from the overshadowing _____!

There is little _____ on the mountaintops.

For growth, one has to go into the _____, where there is an abundance of _____.

There is nothing to cast a _____ on the mountaintops.

Shadows are evidence that the _____ that shines in and _____ you is falling on something!

We _____ mountain-tops. We _____ the valleys!

When God _____ us with God's transfiguring _____, it is best not to _____, but to just _____!

Are we willing to “BE” all that He wants us to be?
