“At The Table”
(1 Corinthians 11:23-26)

Maundy Thursday usually involves a remembrance of the first _____ service.

Often Christians forget that this offering of bread and cup was offered during a family _____!

This is a continuation of the meal Jesus shared with many, but there was _____ and _____ in coming together at the _____!

We cannot discount the power in _____ together!

On this night, Jesus invited the one who would _____ him, the one who would _____ him, the ones who would _____ him.

All were _____!

That’s the gift of this feast! – All are invited to _____ the gifts and _____ of the risen Christ!

Nothing can keep us from the _____ of God; nothing can keep us from the _____ of the Savior!

This is the place for us to draw _____ to Jesus, and hear his voice _____ to us!

We are not responsible for “other’s” _____ to that voice, but we are most certainly for our _____ obedience to His voice!

The methodologies change. The offerings of the elements have changed, but the _____ is the same!

(over)

Jesus knew this was all necessary because human beings don’t know how to _____ themselves with God and need _____!

When you partake of this meal, please remember, this table is a _____!

This _____ is the hospitality of the one who came to live, teach, heal, die and rise so we could be in _____ with God and with one another!

Remember the _____ and the _____ of this moment, this _____ with the risen Christ!

Remember Jesus asked of us,
“Whenever you share it, remember me!”
